Marginal Column

By JOHN F. REYNOLDS

NEW American pressure is developing against the exchange controls exercised in the sterling area, closely resembling the pressure against the sterling exchange rate a year ago. During the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Paris private talks between British and American financial policy-makers have made it clear that Mr. John Snyder and the U.S. Treasury are about to launch an all-out offensive to remove what is termed discrimination against dollar goods. Next month the Monetary Fund must draft its advice to the Customs and Tariff Conference which will be held in Turkey in November. It is feared that, under American pressure, the International Monetary Fund will recommend the abolition of import and exchange controls "in certain countries," meaning Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Southern Rhodesia, Ceylon, India, Pakistan and Chile. Sir Stafford Cripps is determined to defend the unity of the sterling area, which remains a cardinal principle of British policy. In all circumstances and against all comers—so far including the Americans.

ONE of the first casualties of the new armament drive in the West is likely to be the Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel resources of Western Europe. At least the planners are suddenly encountering opposition from unexpected quarters. Not so long ago the Americans were hailing the Schuman plan as one of the most outstanding contributions to the idea of European integration. However, having closely watched the discussions of the Schuman plan negotiators in Paris, they are now inclined to believe that some of the predictions made by British experts may come true after all.

THE eventual result of these negotiations would be a super cartel, such as has never existed before and this is where the Americans begin to feel uneasy. Cartels always tend to regulate their output according to the figures in their annual profit and loss accounts while, in the American view, at this vital moment coal and steel production should be geared exclusively to military requirements. There is also some fear that a European Coal and Steel Cartel would be a formidable barrier to the smooth flow of international capital. M. Schuman has therefore been advised that enthusiasm for his much-hailed plan is on the wane, and that he had better go slow. There is also the fact that German Chancellor Dr. Adenauer is under strong pressure from industrial leaders not to enter into any premature commitments just now. German industry expects an all-time boom and is, therefore, opposed to any international agreement which might restrict its manoeuvrability.

IT has not been mentioned anywhere, but Britain and other countries which have sent troops to Korea are wondering whether and how to pay for supplies and equipment. The troops are supplied by the U.S. Army, receiving American rations and using American Red Cross and P.X. facilities. The question has therefore arisen whether the United States expect payment in dollars or whether these supplies will be debited to a lend-lease account.

THE first we had to become Prime Minister in post-war Germany is Dr. Bartram, now a member of the Christian Democratic Union. When presenting his new cabinet to the parliament of the German Federal States of Schleswig-Holstein, he promised drastic cuts in government salaries and the definite end of de-Nazification.

London, September.

Congress Passes Anti-Red Law

WASHINGTON, Saturday (AP).—Congress enacted into law today the Communist-Control Bill which President Truman vetoed yesterday as a danger to national security.

The Senate completed a major defeat for the President by voting to override the veto after a futile night-long battle by a small group supporting Mr. Truman's stand. The fight kept Congress in continuous session for over 24 hours.

The bill calls for the imprisonment of Communists and other subversive elements in times of emergency and the exclusion of Communists from Government and other strategic posts.

The measure has now passed into law over the President's head.

Criticizing the measure part by part, Mr. Truman said that registration of the Communist Party itself would not endanger traditional liberties. "However," he said, "the application of the registration requirements to so-called Communist Front organizations can be the greatest danger to freedom of speech, press and assembly, since the alien and sedition laws of 1798."

Stating his objections, Mr. Truman said the bill would: 1. Add potential enemies by requiring the publication of a complete list of vital defense plants, laboratories, and other installations.

Anglo-Israel Air Pact Initialed

POST Correspondent

LONDON, Saturday. — Israel plans will be able to use London Airport under the Anglo-Israel Air Agreement initialed here yesterday, which is now ready for signature.

One of the difficulties during the negotiations was the suggestion originally made by the British side that Prestwick Airport in Scotland should be the British terminus.

The agreement is welcomed here as likely to induce other countries, whose airlines are already making use of Lydda to follow the British example.

No official notification of the initialed of the agreement had reached Tel Aviv at late hour last night, but the news did not come as a surprise, since the negotiations had proceeded smoothly. It was stated there that Prestwick had been suggested by Britain as Israel's base for onward flights to the U.S., after calling at London Airport. This suggestion has since been dropped, and Israel planes will continue using London Airport.

Dutch Air Group To Arrive Today

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — A Netherlands air delegation is due here by K.L.M. plane tomorrow, to start negotiations for an air agreement between Israel and the Netherlands.

The delegation consists of Prof. D. Goedhuis, Netherlands Air Attache in London; Dr. H. J. Spanjaard, Director of Civil Aviation; and Dr. L. G. Bergerhoff Mulder, Mr. J. C. van der Kloot, Manager of K.L.M. central group, will act as adviser to the delegation, and Mr. J. F. van Oldenborgh, K.L.M. Near East representative, will visit Israel during the discussions.

U.S. Oil Concerns Raise Prices

By GEORGE LINTHEIM

Jerusalem Post Correspondent
LONDON, Saturday. — A further rise in the price of oil and oil products is forecast here, following the decision of three leading American producers to raise the price of crude oil.

Attention is, however, drawn to the fact that American oil prices are still below the level of August, 1949. The current price movement started before the Korean war and is expected to continue as the rearmament programme gets into its stride. At the same time, production and refining are still expanding at a rate which in the opinion of competent business circles here will prevent a really sharp rise in prices.

Stocks of residual fuels are unusually low, and shortages may develop if a cold winter is in store and unless exports from Venezuela are sharply increased. Otherwise, the stock position is not judged dangerous. The fall in stocks in the first half of this year was caused by the increased demand in America which was not matched by the expansion of production facilities. Since then, production and refining have almost caught up.

Senate Passes U.S. Defence Bill

WASHINGTON, Saturday (Reuters). — The Senate yesterday passed and sent to the White House the $17,000,000,000 emergency defence bill.

The Senate approval came after it had rejected a ban proposed by Senator Kenneth Wherry (Republican, Nebraska) to stop American economic aid to countries which ship war potential goods to Communist nations.

Both the Senate and the House of Representatives passed a resolution providing a holiday until after Thanksgiving Day and the November elections.

Sharett Calls For Investments

NEW YORK, Saturday. (INA). — The foremost task of Israel's economic statecraft is to attract private capital for investment in sound economic enterprises which would make it a great and productive force in the Middle East, Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett declared here yesterday at a luncheon given by the Israel Manufacturers' Association for a delegation of manufacturers now visiting the U.S.

Mr. Sharett said Israel's present position had been brought about by the staggering volume of immigration which, he insisted, must go on "as long as the driving force of misery and the urge for healthy national life persist."

Mr. A. S. Eban, Israel's Minister to the U.S., told the luncheon guests that the slogan for Israel's battle on the economic front must be increased production. "Israel must take urgent steps to increase its agricultural production in order to give a sound social basis to its civilization," he said.

First Autumn Rain In Haifa Area

HAIFA, Saturday. — Sleepy Haifa residents heard the patter of their season's first rain against their windows early this morning. A series of short, but vigorous showers fell intermittently at 6 o'clock at 5 and again at 8.30 this morning, clearing the dust from the streets and leaving the air cool and fresh.

From the northern coastal area rain was reported between midnight and one in the morning.

Upper Galilee had a heavy downpour between 2 and 3.30 this afternoon, and Mt. Canaan reported a 22-millimetre rainfall.

America's Best Friend in M.E.

WASHINGTON, Saturday (UP). — Mr. Jacob Blaustein, President of the American Jewish Committee, told President Truman yesterday that he considered Israel was the best friend the U.S. had ever had in the Middle East.

He paid a short visit to the President to report on what he had learned about the economic, social and political situation in Israel during his recent visit there at the invitation of the Prime Minister.

Mr. Blaustein told reporters afterwards that he did not have time to complete his review with the President, who was exceedingly occupied, but that he would return to the White House next Thursday for a further conversation.

After Midnight

Prime Minister Attlee indicated yesterday that the Government's aim was to keep the peace in the Middle East for as long as possible. He said that the Government was prepared to give ground in some cases, but that it was determined to stand firm on the issue of Jewish rights.

Sharett To Visit Weizmann In Paris

Mr. E. Sharett, Chief Secretary to the Government, left for Paris last night by El Al plane to visit President Weizmann. He is expected to return in a few days.

Nobel Peace Prize Awarded To Dr. Bunche

OSLO, Saturday. — Dr. Ralph Bunche was yesterday awarded this year's Nobel Prize for Peace for his services as U.N. Mediator in the Palestine war. This is the first time a Negro has received such an award.

The award, which was made by the Nobel Prize Committee of the Norwegian Parliament, is worth nearly $9,000. Last year, no Nobel Peace Prize was awarded, presumably because the Committee could not find a worthy candidate.

Dr. Bunche, after the termination of his mission to the U.N. Trusteeship Council and declined to join the State Department as Assistant Secretary of State, since he did not want to expose his family to the "Jim Crow" atmosphere.

He said in Flushing Meadow last night that the award would inspire him to continue his efforts "in the great cause of world peace."

"Needless to say, I received this news with deep humility for I more than any one recognize the extent to which my peace efforts in the Near East flowed from the strength of the U.N.," he said. It had been Count Bernadotte who had achieved the first truce in Palestine and thereby laid the essential foundations for the armistice agreements which Dr. Bunche negotiated in Rhodes, he added.

Fitting Tribute

Israel's Foreign Minister, Mr. Moshe Sharett, called the choice of Dr. Bunche as the man who had best served the cause of peace during the past year "a fitting tribute to a great servant of the U.N." He said that the award would be appreciated "particularly by those who have labored to arrange his Herculean efforts to bring an end to hostilities and the way in which he displayed patience, resource and ingenuity in the complex armistice negotiations between Israel and her four neighbours."

Mr. Trygve Lie said the U.N. award was a fitting tribute to the man who had been chosen for the Nobel Peace Prize, Ralph Bunche, by his work of mediation in Palestine, has fully merited the great honour that has come to him.

The award was warmly welcomed by the "Manchester Guardian" today, which acclaimed it as an "admirable choice." It said that the paper recalled that Dr. Bunche had taken over the task of mediation in Palestine "at a time of great difficulty."

It said the exchange of views between the six ministers would assist the three foreign ministers in further discussions in the North Atlantic Council next week.

'Big 3' Ministers End Defence Meeting

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuters). — The Foreign and Defence Ministers of France, Britain and the U.S. today completed a two-day discussion of the most effective means of building an integrated defence force for Europe.

A communique issued at the close of the morning meeting indicated that the progress had been made towards agreement between the three countries on the means of building up such a force.

It said the exchange of views between the six ministers would assist the three foreign ministers in further discussions in the North Atlantic Council next week.

'Allies Plan Total W. German Freedom'

BONN, Saturday (AP). — The Western Allies are already planning the total abolition of occupation restraints in Western Germany. This was indicated at a press conference here tonight by the French High Commissioner, M. Andre Francois Poncet.

M. Poncet said the three power study group in London, which prepared the way for the New York agreement to lift occupation ties on Western Germany, had been told to prepare the next step. "This may well be the final step in the liberalization of relations between the Allies and West Germany," he said.

He was speaking as chairman on behalf of the three occupying powers. The three Allied high commissioners had just met Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for the first time since their return from New York. The session was devoted to "explanation and clarification" of the New York decision, M. Poncet said.

Yanks in South Race Toward Seoul; Chiang Wins U.N. Test

FLUSHING MEADOW, Saturday. — The U.N. General Assembly today rejected by 41 votes to six a new Soviet motion to invalidate Chinese Credentials Defeated.

The Soviet motion sought to invalidate the credentials of the Chinese Nationalist delegation.

The Assembly approved by 43 votes to five, with one abstention, the report of its credentials committee which found that the delegation's credentials "completely satisfied" General Assembly rules.

The credentials report, as approved, defers further action on Chinese credentials pending a decision by the General Assembly on the report of its special committee set up to investigate the whole issue of Chinese representation in the United Nations.

Mr. Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate, accused the credentials committee of failing to take into account the situation in China.

At yesterday's session, a Russian complaint of "American aggression against China" was approved by the steering committee for inclusion on the Assembly's agenda. The U.S. voted for the inclusion, with only Nationalist China dissenting.

Israel Drafts Reply to Egypt's, Riley's Charges

LAKE SUCCESS, Saturday. — The Israel delegation to the U.N. is preparing a written reply to the Security Council in answer to Egypt's complaints of the expulsion of Beduin tribesmen from Israel to Egyptian territory. The complaint may come up for discussion on Tuesday.

It is understood that the reply will also deal with the allegation contained in the report of General William Riley, U.N. Chief of Staff, that Israel had expelled 4,000 Beduins and 1,000 Arab refugees.

The India-Pakistan dispute over the future of Kashmir has been placed on the agenda of the Security Council's meeting on Tuesday.

First item on the agenda is the Communist Chinese complaint of alleged American aggression against Formosa; the second, Egypt's complaint against Israel; third, the report on Kashmir.

In view of past experience with controversial questions such as Formosa and Egypt's complaint, it is considered extremely doubtful whether the Council will actually be able to deal with the Kashmir question on Tuesday.

Egyptians Say Israel Planning Attack

CAIRO, Saturday. (UP). — Reports that Israel forces were concentrating in the Beer-sheva area in an apparent preparation for an armed move appeared in the Cairo press today.

The reports, which were attributed to "reliable Egyptian sources," could not be confirmed here, since responsible officials were not available.

The newspapers said Israel had recently driven Arab tribesmen from the Negev area to reduce the possibility of a basis of information. They claimed that such "clearing" operations had preceded previous Israeli attacks.

'Big 3' Ministers End Defence Meeting

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuters). — The Foreign and Defence Ministers of France, Britain and the U.S. today completed a two-day discussion of the most effective means of building an integrated defence force for Europe.

World Faces New Tsarism—Attlee

SHEFFIELD, Saturday (Reuters). — British Prime Minister Clement Attlee said here today that the world was faced with a "new Tsarism, more dangerous than the old."

"We little thought that dangers to world peace would come from the people who profess to call themselves Socialists," he added.

"In this difficult world, I believe profoundly that the answer to our difficulties is democratic Socialism, not totalitarianism or the old fashioned capitalism, or even a modernized capitalism," he told the local branch of the Labour Party.

Armaments were not the only answer to difficulties. They were necessary to provide the security under which they could continue the constructive work of building peaceful foundations, the Premier added.

N.Y. Stock Market Soars to Peak

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuters). — The New York stock market yesterday soared to its highest peak in 19 years.

The result, partly of inflationary factors and partly because U.S. economy had been producing at record high levels.

Yanks in South Race Toward Seoul; Chiang Wins U.N. Test

FLUSHING MEADOW, Saturday. — The U.N. General Assembly today rejected by 41 votes to six a new Soviet motion to invalidate Chinese Credentials Defeated.

The Soviet motion sought to invalidate the credentials of the Chinese Nationalist delegation.

Israel Votes For Committee Report

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — Israel voted in favour of the U.N. Credentials Committee report which was adopted by 43 votes to five, with one abstention.

Earlier Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared in a letter to U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie that the U.S. believed that the future of Formosa "should be settled by peaceful means in accordance with the charter of the U.N."

The matter including the election of a high commissioner for Formosa and a draft convention of refugees and stateless persons was assigned to the social commission.

Chile put a four-point plan before the Assembly yesterday to mobilize the West's military and economic strength to resist aggression whenever it occurs.

Although he approved of Mr. Acheson's "peace programme," Dr. Herman Santa Cruz, chief of the Chilean delegation, said the plan should include a provision for the mobilization of a democratic economic force as well as military might. He recommended the conclusion of a pact "for the strengthening of democratic principles."

Netherlands Foreign Minister Dr. Dirk Stikker resumed the polemic of the Assembly with the blunt statement that Soviet "unfaithfulness" to the spirit of the U.N. "has brought us where we are today."

Stikker claimed that Moscow-made methods and tactics were being used to sabotage the recovery and disturb the peace.

Dr. Stikker said that amending the U.N. charter was not enough to diminish the real dangers of the present world situation.

The Netherlands, he said, will support any measure for U.N. membership that Indonesia may make.

Honorary Santa Cruz, head of Chile's delegation and President of the Economic and Social Council, urged the Russians to spare other nations into spending over $20m. for rearmament which could be used for world stability and economic development. "This is a diabolic device plan to re-establish universal domination," he declared.

M. Paul Van Zeeland, Belgian Foreign Minister, said that Russia was creating a "new world of disequilibrium of armaments from which we now suffer. Such disequilibrium promotes war."

French Abandon Indo-China Outpost

Link-Up Could End War in Two Weeks

KOREAN WARFRONT, Saturday (AP). — Two battle-tested American divisions, moved northwards today in an attempt to link up with American and South Korean marines fighting reinforced North Koreans in the outskirts of Seoul.

A First Cavalry Division task force pushed patrols toward Sungju in south central Korea late today, gaining 35 miles in 36 hours against the North Koreans, who seemed to have lost the ability "to reinforce or do anything else but run," a staff officer reported.

About 85 air miles now separate the speeding 1st Cavalry from the Seventh Division around Suwon, just south of Seoul.

Along the more southerly route over what has been called "heartbreak highway," 27th Division troops reached Kumhwa on the way back towards Seoul. Many officers of the First Cavalry believe a link-up in the north would destroy most of the North Korean effective forces. If a link-up is accomplished in the next few days, these officers say, there is a strong possibility of the end of major fighting in the Korean peninsula.

Casualty List

Five thousand are already cut off. Low flying planes went after them today in good weather seeking to add to the kill of more than 1,100 yesterday.

General MacArthur's summary, covering the 24 hours operations to Friday midnight, said that U.N. forces on all fronts inflicted 5,929 casualties and captured 685.

Meanwhile, elements of the British 27th Division were reported to have been strafed and fire-bombed today, apparently with heavy casualties.

The firebombing was carried out with Napalm-jelled petrol. This type of firebomb is a weapon developed and used extensively by the U.S.

British ground troops were attacking against stiff North Korean resistance uphill, five miles west of the Nakdong River and about seven miles south of Waegwan. An air strike had been called to support a final assault on the rest of the hill by units of the British Brigade.

SABOTAGE FEARED IN SHIP SINKING

STOCKHOLM, Saturday (Reuters). — Sweden's Navy Department today was investigating whether the loss of the steamer Energi between Stockholm and the Ariand Islands was due to sabotage.

The Energi (967 tons), sailing under the Panamanian flag, was on her way from Rotterdam to Bundsvad, North Sweden, with a cargo of copper ore. The six survivors of her crew of 16 said they believe she was "struck by a torpedo."

The Security Police are investigating suggestions that Communist spies may have placed a time-bomb in her cargo.

The newspaper said the new appointments for both Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Foster were to be announced shortly but added it did not know when they would take effect.

IMMIGRANTS FACE A NEW WORLD

By GERDA LUFT

Few of the older residents have even begun to understand the magnitude of the revolution experienced by many of the newcomers transplanted into a new country and a new age. It is only with the dispersal of newcomers into Masaroth all over the country that older settlers can make their acquaintance. In the towns there are still tens of thousands who have not yet grasped what is going on only a little beyond city limits.

One of the results of the closing down of immigrant camps and the establishment of primitive work villages has been the severe curtailment of communal institutions. Not only have the kitchens and dining rooms run by the Agency been closed down but in many places it has not been possible to continue the baby homes.

Much more than social work in the usual sense is required to fill the gap. Many of the Masaroth are peopled by Yemenites for whom coming to Israel is a complete revolution. And this revolution is much more severe for the women than for the men. For those who come from a medieval society, Israel is a place in which patriarchal rule of the absolute type is challenged by women who live their own life, work on their own responsibility and are as far from the Oriental notions of women's place in society as can be.

Women's Revolution

For the man from the Orient who goes out to work there are also many new things to learn and his adjustment must take much time and application. For the woman, however, the revolution is much more far-reaching, because her place within the family and in society is involved. Successful adjustment by the wife will mean in many cases successful adjustment by the whole family.

Failure of the wife must mean the upsetting of relations within the home with all the dangerous results this entails.

The first acquaintance with modern ways of life was made by women from the Orient in the baby home. Here they learned not only how to handle infants and how to feed them, but also how to keep their houses clean and how to adjust themselves to the climate. In addition to these practical details a whole set of new ideas began to seep in.

Learning by Doing

It is obvious that education cannot start from the lecturer's dais, nor even in the schoolroom. Book-learning has its value but it must come at a much later stage. What is needed now is careful introduction into the basic ideas of Israel life and this can be taught best by starting with the very young and with the mothers. Experience in the camps has proved that doors to the modern world can be opened more effectively by demonstrating how to clean a room and make a bed than by the more subtle and devious ways of what we call education.

Lack of funds has forced the Jewish Agency to close down many of the institutions in which this sort of teaching was done. Wizo, Women Workers Council, and the Mizrahi Women propose to step into the breach and to furnish the Masaroth with instructors who — if they understand their work properly — will guide their charges to a new civilization.

Overcoming Helplessness

If the work is well done it should have much trouble not only for the immigrants but for the whole country. Left to themselves, as many of them are now, with just one or two instructors in each village, they will confront a world they do not understand in bewilderment and helplessness.

White-coated medical students clogged the halls of the Tera Sancta building in Jerusalem on Friday in the second day of their sit-in demonstration against their suspension by the Hebrew University.

They sat on the steps of the building, refusing passage to University workers, and small squads occupied the administrative offices to prevent normal work from proceeding.

A large placard hung from the balcony of the second floor, reading "We protest in the name of our studies and demand that we be returned to our classrooms."

No official representative of the University appeared on the scene. Friday's discussions of the issues at hand with Mr. I. Hofman, of the University's Secretariat, were of a completely unofficial nature, according to the Rector, Professor S. Assaf, who said that the University would neither negotiate with the "renegade strikers" nor take any immediate action against them, although he added that steps would be taken if the interference continued after the holidays.

Professor Assaf said that the University was prepared to discuss students' problems only with the accredited Students' Union, and that the Medical Students had overstepped all their prerogatives when they left the Union, which he reiterated, had accepted the University's demands on fees.

The Medical Students' Union, which has taken no stand as yet on the recent developments, it is apparent that the larger body would facilitate negotiations. The medical students' protest will not be held until the University's demands are met.

New Stadium Being Readied For Maccabiah Opening

Jerusalem Post Bureau

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — Last-minute preparations are now being carried out on the Ramat Gan Stadium to complete it in time for the opening of the Third Maccabiah there next Wednesday.

The road leading to the ground — one of the largest in the Middle East — has been rolled down, and work is finished on the three giant parking lots for 2,000 cars. The high concrete wall around the stadium is now being completed, and last-minute touches being given to the 16,000 seats and the standing room for 50,000. The stands are arranged in wide terraces rising to a height of 17 meters, so that every spectator will have an uninterrupted view of the whole area. Entrance to the stands will be through five tunnels.

Hundreds of workers are now employed on these final preparations to the stadium. Mr. Z. Ruzer, of the Maccabiah Organizing Committee, told reporters on Friday that between 300 and 400 workers had been engaged on the stadium and field for the past four months. The construction has cost about TL300,000.

Old Stadium Repaired. Repairs have also been carried out to the Maccabiah Stadium near the Yarkon River in Tel Aviv. A high concrete wall has been put up around the area, and the old wooden stands replaced with new ones. The area now includes seating for some 5,000 spectators and standing room for 10,000 more. A new track has been laid down for athletic events. Work on renovating the old stadium has cost about TL30,000.

The Prime Minister will attend a reception in Ramat Gan on Wednesday night for the Maccabiah sportsmen and invited guests to be held under the auspices of the Government Tourist Bureau and on the invitation of the Minister of the Interior, Mr. M. Shapir, and the Mayor of Ramat Gan, Mr. I. Krimitz.

The "Maccabiah Village" in the Yarkon Camp in Tel Aviv, put at the disposal of the visitors by the Army, is now filling up with "villagers," who all have high praise for the arrangements made for their comfort and training. The area is "out of bounds" to local residents, extra-territorial as far as food rationing and austerity are concerned.

Houses of Egyptian Prince Searched

CAIRO, Saturday, (Reuter).

Prince Abbas Halim, a member of the Egyptian royal family, disclosed today that he was the "high personality" whose houses police searched this week when probing allegations that weapons were bought for the army while it was fighting in Palestine.

In a letter to the newspaper, "Al-Ahram," the prince said that three weeks ago he asked the Ministry of the Interior to ask the attorney general to hear what he had to say about the Palestine army investigation.

"On Tuesday when I arrived in Cairo from Alexandria, I learned that my houses in both cities, including the one I occupied at Marti (near Cairo) seven years ago and the Royal Automobile Club, had been searched," he wrote.

At Alexandria, the following day, he handed over to the attorney general documents for which the police "were obviously searching," he added. Prince Abbas Halim said he was not angry or annoyed that his houses and club had been searched.

On the contrary, I think this is a courageous step. I only hope the authorities will now search houses of all those whose names have been mentioned in connection with these grave charges."

PUBLIC OPINION POLL OUTLINES BASIC ATTITUDE

West Germans Still Pro-Nazi

By ERNEST LEISER

Official here believe, which can be disregarded just by depressing the accuracy of public opinion polls. These surveys are not ones which depend on percentage-point accuracy. They are intended only to outline basic attitudes.

And those attitudes today are of deepest concern to the shapers of United States policy in Germany. They show how great still is the risk, whether a calculated risk or not — of reposing full confidence on the people of West Germany.

There are other conclusions in the survey which, less striking, are nonetheless disconcerting.

Apathy Towards Politics

One is the continuing attitude of apathy toward all politics. In a Federal German Republic where few citizens know the names of their representatives in Parliament and where those representatives are remote from and unresponsive to their constituents, Mr. McCloy's analysts have found that some 60 per cent would still prefer to leave political affairs to others. There has been a gain in interest, but only a surprisingly small one, since the Germans were given their own government.

Another such finding is the lack of self-confidence in German ability to achieve democratic self-government. Again, the number expressing such confidence has increased — but still only a bare 50 per cent believe the Germans today could actually govern themselves democratically.

Yet another is the strong German preference for economic security to civil liberties. Consistently, six out of every ten questioned in the American zone, from 1947 through 1949, answered they would choose economic security. Ten per cent shrugged the question off with no opinion and only 30 per cent chose freedom.

For Western Union

Not all of the analyses recorded in the survey are so discouraging. The Western Germans have, for example, consistently supported in the majority the idea of a Western European Union. Some 60 per cent have favored the concept of such a union since early 1943. A considerable minority has ventured no opinion, but only a few have been actually opposed to the idea. The Germans also have indicated an increased interest in and support of the Atlantic Pact.

Nevertheless, the balance in this latest published attempt to penetrate the German mind is a heavily unfavorable one. It is not one, of this for notoriously low return: the musicians received regular police-scale wages.

There is no doubt that the disappearance of the Police Band is a serious loss to the public and cultural life. There are few musical groups so versatile in Israel, and few whose budget is so low as IL 17,000 per annum.

It is our feeling that, in the event that the Police Band, per se, cannot be reconstituted, it might be amalgamated with the rather anemic Kol Israel Orchestra, to form a firm and full-toned musical ensemble.

MUSICAL DIARY

MAX Brod's "Requiem Hebraicum," conducted by George Singer, was the high point of Kol Israel's Tuesday night concert. A moving and powerful work, similar in texture to the composer's "In Memoriam," the "Requiem" is deep in feeling, expression, and in Jewish substance. Its mood brings to mind the traditional Kaddish and Yizkor services.

The revised orchestration of the piece added to its impressiveness, and the baritone solo, originally created by Vittorio Weinberg, was done on last night's notice by Karel Salomon, whose phrasing was both precise and profound.

The programme opened with a dignified performance of Ernest Bloch's neo-classical "Concerto Grosso" for string orchestra with piano obligato. The late Vítězslav Novák's early "Slovakian Suite," an artful work intertwining rich folk themes with inventive, followed Mr. Brod's work, and Beethoven's "Prometheus" overture, well-differentiated in dynamics, rounded out the programme.

Despite the high level of Kol Israel's musical offerings, enjoyment of the programmes is disturbed by the inadequate and often amateurish speech and voices of the male announcers. Whereas elsewhere he very best announcers are chosen for musical narration, here, I find, the broadcasts are marred by unmusical, poorly modulated and wheezingly nasal voices. The results are often depressing.

Police Band

ANYONE interested in the musical development of the country cannot fail to have been moved by the recent announcement of the dispersal of the Israel Police Band after 26 years of service to the community. The band, which numbers 20 to 30 musicians, includes a large percentage of experienced and highly qualified musicians. Only recently, one of its trumpeters was invited to join the Kol Israel Orchestra; the 18-year-old clarinetist, a newcomer from Shanghai, made a strong impression on Leonard Bernstein, and was asked to join the I.P.O. Others have frequently appeared as guest soloists with Kol Israel.

Of the war service of the band, much has been said, and who of us, from Metulla to Elath, has not attended some official function at which the group performed? Besides its routine functions, it has given hundreds of concerts for hospitals, soldiers, children, and kibbutzim of denominations as varied as "Hapoel Hamizrachi" and "Hashomer Hatzair." And in cooperation with the Physicians Association, Hadera has begun activities in HADERA and surroundings.

TYRE SHORTAGE

The Editor, The Jerusalem Post
Sir,—The public has been pleasantly impressed by the new heavy-duty lorries which have appeared during the past year. Our national fleet is modern, and capable of serving the public cheaply. However, the lack of tyres has created a fantastic black-market, and has sent the cost of hauling sky-high; IL20 is demanded for tyres which—once cost IL30.

Our haulage cooperative is responsible for getting the produce of Upper Galilee to the town markets. Our 23 trucks are, on the average, less than three years old, our drivers experienced, our ambition, to lower the cost of trucking as much as possible. Yet, today, a third of our vehicles stand idle, suspended on jacks and block, tyre-less. The trucks that are operating take only two-thirds of their permitted capacity. We are unable to assist the public works department in carrying out their road-improvement programme in the Galilee, and as a result hundreds of local immigrant workers are unemployed.

During the past three months, we have not received six tyres. Our frequent interviews with the Controller of Road Transport have resulted in nothing at all, not even promises. Yet the port has sheds full of new tyres. The agents state that the Government does not release their stocks. And you in Haifa, and in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, should know that there is produce in Upper Galilee which will not be moved—that immigrants here will have no shovels this winter, and that ours, which is the second largest hauling cooperative in the country, is twiddling its thumbs in frustration and in fury.

Sir,—In reply to "Ex Paper Merchant" who wrote on the alleged waste of paper caused by completing in five copies the monthly returns to the Keren Pikadon, I would like to point out that one copy is for the firm itself making the return, the second goes to the workers' committee, the third to the Accountant General to enable him to fix the differences — if any — due to each worker, the fourth to the Ministry of Supply and Rationing to enable them to determine any drop in prices of commodities or services.

Only the fifth copy is kept by the Keren Pikadon Veketen Hazala.
